

Security Risk Consulting

Security Risk Consulting Services

As more companies continue to look abroad for opportunities in emerging markets, it is important to consider the increased risk to employees who travel abroad. AIG Travel has the global reach and expertise to provide an effective security solution, offering vital support, guidance and advice to your traveling employees.

Every company has a duty of care to their employees, including expatriates, overseas travelers, local nationals, subcontractors and their families. Companies determine the steps they take to meet their duty-of-care obligations and safeguard their employees' health, safety and overall-well being.

AIG Travel's global security risk consulting services are designed to support a client's needs across the globe.

GOVERNANCE

We support client governance objectives by crafting security plans, crisis management procedures and/or business continuity action plans, which can be customized to align with a client's strategic planning.

DUE-DILIGENCE

We can provide a security expert to conduct customized due-diligence support to meet the client's needs, such as a detailed facility assessment, specific security risks review or location-specific risk assessment.

COMPLIANCE

AIG Travel is staffed with security experts who will assist clients with meeting security risk compliance requirements by reviewing compliance plans, conducting audits and benchmarking assessments that will help to identify and mitigate risk.
